[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN ]

DATES TO FEBRUARY 16.

Congressional

WASHINGTON Feb 14.—The Senate after [illegible] hours passed the League Island Navy Yard bill

Mr Sherman called up the bill for funding the compound interest notes It passed as amended It provides for funding in 3 per cent certificates not more than one hundred million dollars to be outstanding

The Senate passed a bill to build a submerged tubular bridge at St. Louis and also a bill to establish national cemeteries and appropriating $750,000

The Senate will pass both the Louisiana and the military Government bills before Wednesday next

The vote in the Senate to-day showed that there is strength enough to pass the Niagara ship canal bill, and it will be put on its passage this week

The bill to prevent the contraction of greenbacks does not stand any chance this session

The House passed the Senate resolution concerning the ocean mail service between San Francisco and Portland, Oregon

Mr Blaine's bill to reimburse the war debts of the loyal States, was defeated and referred to the committee on Ways and Means by a vote of 85 to 62 after the House had refused by 64 to 87 to lay it on the table

The House considered the internal revenue bill

Mr Ward of Kentucky moved to strike out the clause raising the distillery license After a long debate it was adopted

WASHINGTON Feb 14.—In the House on motion of Schenck of Ohio the Senate bill to regulate the terms of certain civil offices was taken from the Speakers table The Senate had refused to concur in the House amendment making the bill apply to cabinet officers The House insisted on its amendment and a committee on conference was asked

The Senate joint resolution relating to ocean mail service between San Francisco and Portland, Oregon, was passed

The bill reported on January 30th, from the committee on war debts of the loyal States, to reimburse the States that furnished troops for the Union army for advances made, came up Blaine of Maine remarked that the bill provided for the issue of five per cent bonds to the amount of one hundred and fifty million dollars A motion to table it was negatived 91 to 57 A motion to refer to the committee on Ways and Means was agreed to, ayes, 81, noes 44

In the Senate, the Military Committee reported a bill abolishing the rank of Lieutenant General

The committee on Territories reported a bill relating to Utah, which prescribes the qualifications of voters makes the persons who may solemnize marriages(*) and makes polygamy illegal

Conness introduced a bill authorizing the Postmaster General to invite proposals for a monthly mail service between San Francisco and Honolulu, no bid exceeding $100,000 to be considered.

The Senate passed the House bill making League Island, in the Delaware river, below Philadelphia, a depot for iron-clads It dispenses with the Philadelphia Navy Yard

The Senate passed the loan certificate bill for funding compound interest notes It goes to the House

Washington News.

WASHINGTON, Feb 15.—It is reported that the President has promised to accept the bill for the military governments of the Southern States, with the Blaine amendment, which provides for the admission of Representatives to Congress from any State which adopts the Constitutional Amendment and conforms to the Constitution and laws The extreme radical Senators oppose the amendment It is thought the bill will pass without it, but if the amendment should prevail the House will concur

WASHINGTON Feb 15.—The Commissioner of the General Land Office has approved 32 additional town lot entries in Petaluma, and has directed patents to issue to the claimants. The Commissioner of the General Land Office has sent to San Francisco decisions in 35 cases under act of March 31, 1866 for the relief of occupants of lands within the reach of the San Jose and Alameda Railroad lines The remaining cases will immediately be disposed of The Commissioner has transmitted to Oregon City 94 patents for old settlements the claims covering 35 7-4 acres, for delivery to claimants

NEW YORK, Feb 15.—The Times special says Mr Sumner will offer one or two more amendments to the Louisiana bill, which may give rise to debate

Mr Fessenden will insist on incorporating the Blaine amendment to the House bill to establish a military government in the South, and there is a fair prospect of its adoption by the Senate

The Northern Pacific Railroad scheme has failed for the present The committee to whom it was referred, refused to act at this session

It is probable that if the Senate should neglect the nomination of Mr Bogy, that the President will send in the name of Gen Webb of Wisconsin, as Commissioner of Indian Affairs

Beveridge, who brutally assaulted Painter, correspondent of the Philadelphia Enquirer, last winter, was sentenced by Judge Fisher to pay a fine of $150 Beveridge pleaded guilty and asked the court to be lenient.

The Tribune's special says that Stevens was unable to leave his house to-day on account of sickness brought on by fatigue and excitement resulting from his speech in the House yesterday He fainted in his library this morning and was carried to bed and has been unable to see visitors He is somewhat better this evening

Several leading Republican members of Congress, and others, among whom are Messrs Raymond, Bingham Hubbard Buckland and Delano, held a protracted recess last night for the purpose of ascertaining whether a compromise might not yet be effected between the President and Congress There seems to be little doubt that the President is willing to agree upon a plan for the purpose of accommodating the views of the majority of Congress, provided they would meet him half way, but it appears there is nobody that can speak for the majority Hence, the difficulty of negotiating about the proposed arrangement.

Mr Morrill, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, being called home by the serious illness of his mother, his absence will seriously interfere with the business of the tariff bill before the committee, as nearly all the members have left the important measures to his guidance They will go on with it, however, with the view of getting it before the House as speedily as possible

WASHINGTON, Feb 15.—The Indian Commissioners have concluded a treaty with the Stockbridge Indians who may relinquish their lands in Wisconsin, and portions of the tribe will become citizens The treaty with the Sacs and Fox Indians will be completed to day.

WASHINGTON Feb 16.—Senator Davis amendment to the Constitution provides that each State on the first Monday of January next preceding the expiration of the President's term shall nominate one citizen for the office of President Both Houses of Congress shall meet in November and proceed to elect from the candidates, dropping the lowest at each ballot Ordered printed.

WASHINGTON, Feb 16.—The accounts of Wiley, late Superintendent of Indian Affairs in California, have been passed

The friends of the Colorado bill are confident it will pass over the veto

The first registration of voters in the District of Columbia shows 1,613 whites and 860 blacks

Alderman Elijah Edmundson is dead

Miscellaneous.

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—An American vessel is assisting in removing the women and children from the Island of Crete

The receipts of flour yesterday was 10,000 barrels, of which 6 181 were from California

The following marine news was received by the steamer

QUEENSTOWN, Jan 31.—Arrived from San Francisco the ship Black Hawk at Liverpool, the ship Alpine at Queenstown and the ship Clara Rusial The Gustave Picard has arrived at Falmouth

The World this morning predicts a serious falling off in the spring travel to California in consequence of the prevalence of yellow fever on the Isthmus of Panama

Clifton Harris, a negro, confesses to the murder of Mrs Kingsley and Miss Caswell, at Lewiston, Maryland, January 12th

CHARLESTON, Feb 17.—At the Anniversary Banquet of the Chamber of Commerce last night, Gov Orr made a speech during which he alluded to his visit to Washington and the formation of the scheme of reconstruction already presented which he thought would secure the support of the conservative members of the Radical party He was received kindly and treated courteously Every disposition was manifested to have perfected a complete settlement He considered that if the Constitutional Amendment be adopted it would produce the best result upon a considerable portion of the Radical party, and save the South from many proposed radical measures

HARTFORD Feb 15.—Mayor H S Pearson, a leading drygoods merchant committed suicide to-day, while suffering from temporary insanity caused by business troubles

ROCHESTER, Feb 15.—Owing to the ice jam against the railroad bridge, a portion of the city is flooded, and a serious inundation is threatened

NEW YORK, Feb 15.—The following arrivals are announced At Liverpool from San Francisco ships Clifford Alpine and Exchequer, at Queenstown the Empress, India Sunderland, Alice and Kitchen

Miscellaneous.

BUFFALO N Y Feb 14.—The remaining portion of Table Rock, at Niagara, fell on Tuesday, fortunately no one was on it at the time

NEW YORK Feb 15.—The Herald's Washington special says the decision of the Court of Claims at Washington in case of allowance for servants to officers of the army from the 1st of May, 1864, to the 31 of March 1865 entitles each officer who served during that period to $48 extra for each servant employed being a difference per month of four and sixteen dollars in the amount which should have been paid

A large quantity of most important testimony relative to the alleged frauds in the New York Custom House implicating certain high officials is missing

NEW YORK Feb 15.—The custom house officers have seized smuggled diamonds embedded in cork in letters from Europe [illegible] pear like cartes de visite

The cotton crop is estimated at two million bales of 400 pounds each

NEW YORK, Feb 14.—Ex Minister Bigelow has arrived from Paris

MISMANAGEMENT OF OUR INDIAN AFFAIRS—THE RECORD OF CALEB LYON AS INDIAN SUPERINTENDENT —Senator Nesmith, in his sub report on Indian affairs, thus exposes the mal administration of Caleb Lyon of Lyonsdale, late Governor and Superintendent of Indian Affairs of Idaho Territory Lyon was removed by the President last spring :

His [Lyon's] absence from his post, however, seems to entail no embarrassment upon the management of Indian affairs. When present, he conducted them with an ignorance unparalled, and a disregard of the rights and wants of the Indians, and of the laws regulating intercourse with them, deserving the severest rebuke. In a council which I held with all the principal chiefs of the Nez Perce tribe, they unanimously denounced his conduct, and accused him, among other things, of negotiating with one of the tribes for the private purchase of an eligible situation within the boundaries of the reservation for his own benefit, and upon which he proposed to locate "New Lyonsdale." The charge made by the Indians is corroborated by the statement of Rev H. H Spaulding, herewith submitted, and mark h.

The most prominent feature of Gov Lyon of Lyonsdale's administration of Indian affairs is to be seen in his abortive attempts at erecting a stone church upon the Nez Perces reservation The site chosen is at the eastern base of a steep hill or mountain The walls are constructed of large, rough, basaltic stones, laid up in common earth or mud Its dimensions outside 36 feet by 56, and the walls are 3 feet thick and 16 feet high, and without a roof, bearing a strong resemblance in all but hight, to a Mexican corral or a New England cattle pound The freezing and thawing of the mud mortar has caused it all to fall out so daylight is visible in any direction through the walls, while the accumulated water from the rains passing down the mountain side has made the walls settle in such a manner as to be in constant danger of falling The expenses already incurred in building this novel structure amount to $5 943 13, $1 185 50 of which is still due to the Indians for labor performed by them at $1 per day in its erection, and for the neglect to pay which the Indians make very uncomplimentary remarks of the Governor, who employed and promised to pay them therefor. Fortunately, no roof has been placed upon it, and the period is not far distant when its fallen and dilapidated walls will constitute a costly ruin to commemorate the extravagant folly and want of common sense of his Excellency, Caleb Lyon of Lyonsdale

It is not known what authority, if any the Governor had for this expenditure, nor is it known from what appropriation the money expended was taken The treaty certainly provided for nothing of the kind, and if it did, no sane man would think of erecting it in its present form, upon its present site or of the materials selected The amount thus foolishly squandered should be disallowed in Gov Lyon's accounts, and he or his sureties compelled to refund the money The erection of this structure seems to be in perfect keeping with the rest of Gov Lyon's official acts connected with his administration of Indian affairs in Idaho Hence his continual absence will cause no detriment to the service For further particulars relative to Gov Lyon's conduct I refer you to the statements made by Agents O'Neil and Rev H. H Spaulding.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER

FROM OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENT

WASHINGTON, D C, Jan 11, 1867

Congress is evidently somewhat at a loss what to do with the various propositions to limit the power of the Executive in making removals from and appointments to office All Radicals would like to tie up this Executive no doubt but what about the next one? To pass laws for the sole purpose of punishing Andrew Johnson, or to restrain him from excess might be pleasant enough but what if these very laws should be very much in the way of the next President, he being (we will suppose) a thorough Radical?

Of course there is a class of men who hesitate at nothing. They plunge headlong after their desires without stopping to think of results But we have many Republicans who look to results and they hesitate over the proposition to prohibit the President from making removals or the transfer of appointments to the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court

There is another consideration the Republicans who now hold prominent offices are generally on the fence—they have not done a thing for Radical Republicanism for six months Many of them are protesting at the White House that they are good Johnson Republicans, and in the Senate that they are genuine Radicals I don't know how it may be in all the States but in some in which I have an acquaintance the whole race of office holders isn't worth the passage of a single statute. It would be simply to guard the most contemptible class of our citizens I have one of these fellows at this moment in my mind He whispers Radicalism in the ears of honorable senators, and at the same time sends Democrats to the President to convince that high functionary that this suspected office holder is "All right" Generally speaking the honest, manly office holders have resigned or been turned out of their places, and those who remain are toadies I hear that there are exceptions—a few excellent men still claim office, and also a very large class of truly Radicals still fill the small offices It has not been considered worth while to turn them out

The President is as obstinate as any mule on the reconstruction question When the Arkansas delegation were with him I learn that a colloquy something like the following took place

Arkansas Mr President, we would not seriously object to the amendment proposed last session if we could have any positive assurance that we should then certainly be admitted to representation

The President. But you will get no such pledge It is a game to draw you on under the control of that body, and I have looked the whole ground over and I think I am trying to do what is really the best for the country, and I unhesitatingly advise you to accept no such proposition from Congress

Arkansas But Mr President, are we in no danger of being compelled hereafter to take something worse?

The President You can trust to the common sense of the people It will rise to the control of Congress at last

Arkansas You will excuse us for saying just here, Mr President that you trusted to that in the late elections and were beaten What if we do the same and find ourselves under a Territorial government?

The Arkansas gentlemen should take counsel of their fears in this instance, for it is a fact that they will never get such terms as have been offered them

The excitement in the House on Monday last upon the impeachment question was intense It is a long time since I have seen the House so wrought up It shows how excited the country is on this subject Ashley, of Ohio, has at last accomplished his object, which was an investigation The Judiciary committee of the House is strongly made up Its members are able men and very radical but will not recommend impeachment unless the facts are such as to insure the President's conviction. It was impossible for any Republican member to refuse an investigation when such terrible charges were made Ashley says he can prove them—that he has evidence of the most infamous corruption on the part of the President If he has, he now has an opportunity to prove his charges

The President treats the whole matter with an easy nonchalence, or tries to do so My opinion is that he is worried by this action of the House and that he is not quite ready for an open fight with Congress. It is said he would not submit to an impeachment by this Congress but that is moonshine, for he would be compelled to submit and he knows it He is nervous over the possibility that he may be put on trial, but is consoled with the thought that the Senate will not give in a verdict of guilty even if the House impeachs He is right I presume, unless Ashley's "facts" turn out to be exceedingly important Everything depends on them I confess that I have but slight expectation that the facts will warrant impeachment.

There was an interesting debate in the Senate the other day—on the suffrage bill—in which Mr Williams, of Oregon, took part It began in this way

"Mr Saulsbury I wish to ask the Senator from Oregon how many negroes there are in the State he represents here, and whether they allow them the right of suffrage in the State from which he comes?

"Mr Williams I have to say, sir, that there are but few negroes in the State which I represent, and, like other States, they are not allowed the right of suffrage, for the Constitution of that State was formed——

"Mr. Saulsbury Then let me ask the Senator another question . why does he force this measure upon a people where one-third or one fourth of the population consists of negroes, as in my State when he will not allow the miserable remnant of the negro race in his own State the right of suffrage Will he explain to the Senate how he can reconcile that with the spirit of justice, right, and propriety?

"Mr Williams I am not advocating the extension of the elective franchise to the negroes in the State of Delaware

"Mr Saulsbury But you are in favor of it, sir

"Mr Williams The question now before the Senate is as to whether negroes should enjoy the elective franchise in the District of Columbia, and I say that I believe a majority of the people represented here in Congress are in favor of this bill and my reasons for believing so are these during the last session a bill similar to this passed the House of Representatives, and a bill was also passed by that House extending the elective franchise to the negroes in all the Territories of the United States The members——

"Mr Saulsbury May I ask——

"Mr Williams I wish to finish my sentence

"Mr Saulsbury I ask the gentleman whether he was not a member of the convention in Oregon that excluded the negro in that State from the right of suffrage, and whether he did not vote for that exclusion?

"Mr Williams Mr President that is altogether foreign to this question but I can explain that matter There was a strong party in Oregon at the time its constitution was framed in favor of establishing slavery in that State and it was exceedingly difficult to defeat that party because an effort was made to make it the doctrine of the Democratic party, and to exclude from that organization all men who did not favor the pro-slavery policy there, and such was public opinion in the State of Oregon at that time that to defeat the establishment of slavery it was made necessary for the men who opposed it to introduce into the constitution a clause which denied to negroes the right of suffrage and other rights It was for the purpose of defeating the institution of slavery in that State that the constitution was made in the form it now is '

Saulsbury was partially drawn, and insisted on pushing his questions further His next was as follows

'Mr Saulsbury, Did you vote in favor of that, sir, and in giving that vote did you act conscientiously or under compulsion

"Mr Williams Mr President I do not like to be diverted from the subject before the Senate but I say that I was determined if possible to defeat the institution of slavery in Oregon, and that, in my judgment it was necessary in order to prevent its establishment there to concede somewhat to a public opinion which then predominated in that State

"I was compelled to choose between the two evils and, in my judgment, it was better as there were no negroes at that time in the State and few could reasonably be expected to come there to provide in the constitution that they should not have the elective franchise than it was to allow slavery to be established in the State of Oregon "

The Senate perfectly understood the position of Mr Williams, and his reply was perfectly satisfactory He acted on the principle that half a loaf is better than none—just as he would have done to pass a suffrage bill giving the ballot to a portion of the colored people, had been before the Senate He got what he could

The President was out at a Copperhead dinner at the National Hotel a few evenings since and for a wonder, did not make a coarse speech, but contented himself with a toast! This reticence was truly wonderful under the circumstances

STEAMER DAY

The Impeachment of the President.

[From the N Y Tribune, Jan 9th ]

Mr Ashley has offered his resolutions, and they have taken the course indicated in the caucus on Saturday evening The excitement which the announcement of Mr. Ashley's intention created in Wall street last week did not so much indicate a fear of the impeachment, or even of the result of it, or that our finances were so unhealthy, so feverish and uncertain, that the least derangement created a panic The currency is in such a morbid excitable condition that any unusual event—as the death of the Emperor Napoleon, a war between Russia and Turkey, or an insurrection in England, would set our markets in an uproar and bring ruin through Wall street. In addition to Mr Ashley's resolution, Mr. Loan of Missouri introduced an incoherent and amusing resolution, which we are told created some excitement. Mr. Loan is evidently a morbid person, with the weakness of getting into print, or in some way attracting attention, and we shall probably hear no more of his manifesto Mr. Ashley's resolution was referred to a committee, and will be considered There can of course, be no harm in this reference At the same time, now that the question has been brought before the country, there are some points which occur to us as worthy of careful thought

I There is nothing now to be gained by Impeachment. President Johnson has been a bad President, but also a foolish one. We have had a Chief Magistrate doing all he could to destroy the party which elected him, and at the same time all he could do to destroy himself. If President Johnson has been an enemy of Republicanism, he has also been an enemy of himself. He did much against the party, but the elections left nothing of him He was left politically dead—scarcely worth burial He was looked upon as a defeated and disappointed schemer, still he had a large party at his back. In this country the shortest political road is that which leads from a majority to a minority Our party will take this road when it rashly begins impeachment. That can only revive President Johnson's dying fortunes, and give him what he wants—sympathy, and the chance to make a defensive war.

II Can he be impeached? We do not doubt the law—but how would the law work? The charges would be numerous, intricate, and drawn with skill There would be endless yearning on the part of the Republicans to make speeches in favor of the prosecution, and of course every effort on the part of the President's friends to prolong the trial, fighting it step by step, and endeavoring at least to drag it endlessly. We will back Garret Davis for a three months' speech, and Cowan until the end of his term, with Saulsbury and McDougall good for intermediate volumes of talk. Warren Hastings was eight years on trial, and in his case there was every motive to hurry matters Here there would be every motive to delay the trial by the President's friends.

III Could the President be removed? Gen. Butler made an ingenious argument during the election to show that, upon the mere presentation of articles of impeachment, the Senate might depose the President and place another person in his office during the trial. Butler's argument was ingenious, but we presume there are twenty lawyers who can make an argument as ingenious on the other side. There is no definite law about it; and President Johnson is not the man to surrender the benefit of a doubt. Those who think he will quietly walk out of the White House at the bidding of a majority of the Senate, mistake the man and the desperate character of the adventurers who control his fortunes. What would an impeachment amount to with the accused all the time in power?

IV There would be much doubt as to the result of this trial. President Johnson has done many things which we consider criminal, but would the Senate as judges think so? Tampering with the revenues by removing faithful officers because they attended to their business and did not concern themselves about politics, and appointing dishonest men, is a serious matter. The interference in the Fenian troubles last summer, where by the honor of America was sacrificed to please England, should be inquired into. The riots at New Orleans, and the fact that no human being has been punished for the blood there shed, stain with indelible blackness the administration of President Johnson We yearn for some atonement for that crime, and it is wise that Congress should find out the authors of the wrong—all who were accessory either before or after the fact—and punish them We believe a Committee has the matter now in charge. We have yet to see whether the best remedy for this is impeachment.

V Are there no issues of more importance than this? Must all this Congress be wasted, and the next, perhaps, in a pageant and prolonged debate, endless jarring of lawyers and Senators The currency calls for relief. Labor suffers under this fearful inflation Our tariffs want reconstruction. There are a hundred questions near to the prosperity of the nation which must suffer and die because of this measure

We do not say that a President should not be impeached We by no means say that Mr Johnson should not be impeached. That would be to take judgment into our own hands We think this Administration has been a calamity—a disgrace—the cause of many evils to the country. We like some redress But how is it to be had? In attempting to remove these evils, may we not fly to others that we know not of? May we not put a precedent upon our statute books which will give any Democratic majority of the Senate and House in future years the right to revolutionize the Government in the interest of slavery Let us not lay violent hands upon the Executive office until we find that no other course remains for the honor of the nation. Perhaps we are wrong, but it does not seem to us that the time for the sterner alternative has arrived.

GOOD WORDS FROM A TEXAS JUDGE.—Judge Duval United States Judge for the Western District of Texas has delivered a stirring address to the Grand Jury He quotes at length from the Constitution and the Amnesty Proclamation, and says there is reason to believe that some persons have violated the conditions on which they obtained amnesty, and such persons should be visited with the punishment their infamy deserves The man who avails himself of the generosity of the Government to obtain exemption from punishment and then violates his oath, is more guilty than the one who was never pardoned He also in strong terms advises the punishment of all who failed to avail themselves of Amnesty Proclamation He also calls attention to the enforcement of the Civil Rights Bill, and says we do not realize the freedom of our late slaves as we must and should do

Great excitement was created at Milwaukee by the announcement that on the first night of the play of Griffith Gaunt an inhabitant of the city would make his debut on the stage The theater was crowded to witness the first appearance of a pig!

While a physician was working over a young lady who had suddenly fainted in the streets of Janesville it was found necessary to remove eleven pairs of stocking legs and one pair of hose before he could restore circulation through her pedal extremities

It is said that the Baden Government and that of Prussia have come to an understanding to suppress the gambling establishments in the two countries at one and the same time There is every probability that Baden, Weisbaden, Hamburg, and Nauheim will ere long cease to be the hells they have been for so many years

A society of smokers was formed at Berlin, two years ago, the members of which agreed to preserve all the points of their cigars, instead of biting them off and throwing them away The money procured by the sale of these bits is applied to the maintenance and education of orphan children, and twenty two are now supported by it.

Reducing Taxes

The New York Tribune, contrary to the general expression of opinion through the press, speaks out boldly against any considerable reduction of the taxes by Congress. It "greatly fears that Congress may be impelled by special importunities to reduce our taxes so as practically to stop the payment of the national debt." It insists that we should "hold fast to the policy of paying our debt promptly."

Now it is not comfortable to be in debt, nor is it a mere trifle to pay a debt of $2,600,000,000 in ten years, as we should do it we continued paying it at the rate of the reduction of last year,—provided we did not first break down entirely.

Of course, the holders of our securities will see by this time that we are certain to pay our debt. They know that their investment is perfectly secure. A less rapid rate of reduction might therefore be adopted without in any degree impairing confidence in our ability and disposition to pay. And that a material reduction of taxes would be a relief to the industry of the country, is a proposition which most people will concur in.

Our great debt resulted from the effort to vindicate our nationality. That effort was successful. Future generations will enjoy the fruits of these labors. We have settled this question in such a way that it will not be likely ever to trouble them. Is it therefore unjust that they should be required to assist in paying the debt? Suppose it is paid within forty years,—should not this satisfy reasonable expectation? This would be such an achievement as the world has never seen.

Making all necessary deductions for the probable falling off of the receipts from internal taxes and import duties, and it is estimated that for the present year there will be left, after paying all the expenses of the Government and the interest on the public debt, at least $150,000,000 to be applied to the reduction of the principal. Hence it will be seen that the taxes might be considerably reduced, and still leave a large surplus to be applied to the payment of the public debt.

The Tribune believes that taxes may be reduced on many articles without diminishing the income of the Government. It thinks that an excise of fifty cents per gallon on distilled liquors will yield more revenue than the present tax of two dollars per gallon. This, certainly, is problematical. Though an effort has been made to get this tax reduced, Congress, we believe, has refused to do it, being of opinion that it will yield more revenue as it now stands than it would if the reduction were made.

The people do not like to be in debt, nor do they like the policy of paying off more rapidly than their resources will warrant. Incomes below one thousand dollars will probably be exempted by the new law of Congress, and taxes on manufactures may be somewhat reduced. We think few will agree with the Tribune in the opinion that Congress ought not "to take off any tax whatever."

ITS STYLE.—Three or four days ago, the Herald in its eager anxiety to show that the whisky rebellion in Pennsylvania was not secretly encouraged by the father of its party, asserted that the "name of Thomas Jefferson, as Secretary of State, appears with that of Washington as President, to the proclamation calling for military force to put down the insurrection." We copied the statement, and showed that the truth of it was somewhat impaired by the fact that Jefferson had resigned the office of Secretary of State on the 31st of December, 1793, while the proclamation of Washington calling for military force to put down the rebellion was issued on the 7th of August, 1794. Whereupon the Herald rejoins: "It will be seen how we are again 'driven from our position.' Orville J. Victor, in his history of American Conspiracies says 'The proclamation, as drawn by Hamilton and amended by Jefferson, was issued on the 16th of September, 1792.'"

Yes, sir; it will be seen how you are "again driven from your position," though you have attempted to fortify it by a device which comes little short of positive falsehood. The proclamation "drawn by Hamilton, and amended by Jefferson, was issued in September, 1792," and the pope's bull against the comet was issued much earlier. But the proclamation of Washington calling for military force to quell the Pennsylvania rebellion, was put forth on the 7th of August 1794, more than seven months after Jefferson had resigned the office of Secretary of State. The proclamation of September, 1792, was addressed to the malcontents themselves, commanding them to disperse, and to desist from further unlawful combinations. The proclamation of August 1794, was addressed to the Governors of the States calling for 15,000 men to march against the rebels. This is the proclamation to which the Herald asserted the name of Jefferson appears as Secretary of State. As Jefferson had resigned that office many months before, it will be seen that this assertion, though its author has attempted to substantiate it by another equivocal statement, is grossly untrue. What now becomes of the whole of this miserable tergiversation? "What trick, what device, what starting hole, can its author find to hide him from this open and apparent shame?"

The object of this writer in making this last statement is apparent. He intended to mystify the subject, to confound one event with another and so lead the unthinking to suppose that his first statement was correct, and that our reply to it was untrue. It is evident from his own words that his design was to misrepresent facts. This is a common habit with him. In this instance, which is but one of many, he shows that he has no regard whatever for truth, if he thinks falsehood will serve his purpose better. He cannot plead ignorance in this case, for he has evidently examined the facts with some care on purpose to so pervert them as to make the worse appear the better reason.

Once more, we take occasion to remind that paper that it is "driven from its position." It knows that its first statement about this matter was untrue, and that its last statement, endeavoring to substantiate the former one, is a falsehood by implication.

This whole matter is, in itself, of little moment and our only object in alluding to it now is to show that the Herald, in order to support its positions, habitually resorts to willful misrepresentation.

J. Patton Anderson, once a Democratic delegate to Congress from Washington Territory and afterwards by a natural transition an officer in the rebel army from Florida, is among those pardoned by the President. This Democratic delegate and rebel officer held the rank of Major General at the close of the rebellion. Fayette McMullen, Governor of Washington Territory under Buchanan's administration, and afterwards a member of the rebel Congress, has also been pardoned. Thomas S Gholson who was Secretary of the Territory at the time McMullen was Governor and who subsequently became a rebel Congressman, has also been made the object of Executive clemency! The Democrats had no sympathy with the rebellion, oh, no!

One hundred lives were lost by the sinking of the steamer Platte Valley just above Memphis on the 17th of January. The steamer struck the wreck of a gunboat sunk during the war, and went down in three minutes. Forty women and children were among the lost.

A late dispatch says that Letcher, late rebel Governor of Virginia, has been pardoned. The whitewashing goes on.

In the House Mr Stevens reported the civil appropriation bill. It was referred to the committee of the whole and made a special order for Tuesday.

The Senate amendments to the Fitzwald pension bill were concurred in.

The House after a protracted debate, passed Mr Schenck's bounty bill, which Mr Schenck explained was the same that passed the House last session but was not acted on in the Senate. It gives $8 33 per month additional pay.

The House concurred in the Senate amendment to the bankrupt bill and debated the internal revenue bill without action.

Mr Wentworth submitted as a question of privilege, involving as he said, the honor of the party and the independence of Congress, a lengthy preamble and resolution instructing the Judiciary Committee to inquire if any corrupt bargains are going on between the President and any members of the House. Mr Wentworth moved the previous question. Mr Eldridge (Democrat) wanted the resolution amended so as to direct inquiry to the point whether members on the other side had not been holding meetings for corrupt purposes and had with corrupt objects determined to impeach the President. Mr Wentworth insisted on the previous question. The House seconded it and the resolution was adopted—80 to 41. Subsequently the vote was reconsidered and the resolution referred to a select committee.

A bill to amend the act declaring the officer who shall act in case of vacancies in the offices of both President and Vice President, was passed without discussion.

The Committee on Commerce reported a large number of bills including the harbor bill, which was passed.

The Speaker appointed Wentworth, Harding, and [illegible] a committee on Wentworth's resolutions. A recess was taken till evening.

Washington News

WASHINGTON, Feb 16.—The pending tariff bill is designed to go into operation immediately. The President will veto the bill and the veto will be sustained. Rumors are gaining ground daily that the President in his message to the Fortieth Congress will shift his ground sufficiently to enable him to recommend suffrage on a basis of intelligence, irrespective of color, in conjunction with some new reconstruction programme.

Mr Schenck's additional bounty bill as it passed the House yesterday, will cost the treasury at the lowest estimate one hundred millions of dollars. Other estimates range as high as three hundred millions of dollars, exclusive of eighty four millions which the Secretary estimated will be required to pay the bounties authorized by the act of July, 1866. It is believed it will pass the Senate.

NEW YORK, Feb 15.—A Washington special reports that the President has promised to accept the military bill with Mr Blaine's amendment.

The loan bill which passed the Senate will soon be reported to the House by the Ways and Means Committee. The committee will also be compelled by instructions to report the anti-contraction bill.

Mr Wentworth's resolution, adopted in the House, for the investigation of alleged secret negotiations between members of the House and the President, will, it is believed, develop some rich incidental operations.

NEW YORK, Feb 16.—The Tribune's special says: It hopes the compromise between the President and Congress will be effected.

The World's special learns from a Republican Congressman who had a conference last night with the President, that the latter is inclined to favor Blaine's amendment as a compromise on the reconstruction question, but with the modification that it shall demand impartial suffrage from the South in the place of universal suffrage.

Wm. Hempstreet, stenographer of the House select committee to investigate the custom house frauds, has been arrested, charged with selling notes of important testimony to Collector Smythe, being the evidence of Brown, the Collector's Private Secretary.

The grounds on which the United States base their demand in the Chancery Court of Great Britain for the restoration of cotton held by Trenholm, Frazer & Co., rebel agents in London, are in effect that our confiscation laws apply to all from the country and that by the laws of nations rebels cannot transfer other property belonging to the legitimate sovereign, and that even if such power of transfer existed, a complete suppression of the rebellion and the annulling by the rebel States of all their pretended contracts, restores to the United States as the only possible owner of all property in dispute.

Miscellaneous

NEW YORK, Feb 15.—Private dispatches to-day state that the land lines through Ireland, unable to work, were down last evening but were working at noon to-day. As these lines traverse the district now in rebellion, it was supposed to be the work of the Fenians.

NEW YORK, Feb 16.—The news from Ireland caused much excitement in Fenian circles here and in Brooklyn. Meetings are being held constantly and demonstrations are to be appointed.

Flour is 10@15c lower. Trade brands are quoted at 11 65@12 90. Wheat is nominally 2@3c lower. The specie export to-day was 33,000 dollars.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

LONDON, Feb 14.—evening.—The Government denies the statement as to the landing of a ship load of Fenians at Valentia and in the Shannon, but admits there is a serious revolt near Killarney.

The wires near Valencia were cut and destroyed for a long distance in all directions. Riots and pillage are the order of the day. Several establishments were sacked on the coast, and a guard of policemen were killed.

LONDON, Feb 15—morning.—Eight hundred Fenians, Col O'Connor, commanding, have retreated to haunts about Killarney, Kerry county. The British Government have posted troops under Hasford at Mallow Junction, Cork county, which commands hill district. Intense excitement prevails in the neighborhood. Many people are leaving precipitately. An ex Captain of United States Volunteers had arrived at Killarney. He is under suspicion as a Fenian leader. A large number of marines from Plymouth are ordered to proceed to the insurrectionary districts immediately.

LONDON, Feb 15.—Noon.—The telegraph wires through the insurrectionary districts in Ireland have been cut in all directions. The news from that quarter has been suppressed by the authorities for prudential reasons. A large Fenian party has been surrounded by the National troops in Tony woods, and the chance of their escape is exceedingly small. The band of 800 Fenians which retreated to the hill district, near Killarney, is still at large and are spreading. Thus far they are confined to Kerry and Cork and will not spread further. The British Government informed Parliament that Col Hasford's force is too small to follow the Fenians into Tony woods but hope by surrounding it to prevent their escape. The Irish authorities have assured the Government that the outbreak will be totally quelled.

The Czar of Russia has written a note in which he objects to the rising of the Syrians against the Turks.

PARIS, Feb 15.—The army organization project of Napoleon is breeding distrust.

Napoleon in his speech before the Corps Legislatif said: "Serious events have happened in Europe almost fulfilling the great Napoleon's idea of uniting all the great nations which is the only way of maintaining the balance of power in Europe. The German Italian events cannot disturb France. I should of all happened to be the cause of peace. France is just. In other parts of the globe we have been obliged to employ force to redress grievances, and have at least tried to raise an ancient empire. Happy results were not first obtained. The good [illegible] idea of the Mexican expedition was to elevate and regenerate the people, implant ideas of order and progress in their minds, open a vast outlet for our commerce and leave the recognition of the services to civilization. Such was my desire and yours, but soon the extent of our sacrifices appeared [illegible] the interests which called us so far [illegible] and I spontaneously determined to recall the army [illegible] the Government of the United States [illegible] that we should remain friendly. The Emperor then proceeded to say that the great powers ought to act in accord to satisfy the [illegible] of the Porte in the present complication."

VALENTIA, Ireland, Feb 15.—The telegraph wires [illegible] between Valentia and Killarney at half past 7 o'clock last night and are still down. The two dispatches [illegible] through the cable to-day were received by mail from Killarney.

ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH OFFICE, HEART'S CONTENT, Feb 15, P.M.—No further particulars of the troubles in Ireland have been received.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb 17.—At about four o'clock this morning a fire broke out in Dupont street near the southeast corner of Washington street. There were three or four buildings destroyed. Loss not ascertained.

There was a full attendance at the Ocean House course yesterday, to witness the running races advertised. The first race, a quarter of a mile dash between White Rose and Kit Carson for $1,000, did not come off, but the one half mile dash for $1,000 between the Oregon mare Annette Fortune, alias Fortune Filley and the California horse Stormy John was made up for with the withdrawal of the other, won by Stormy John.

The late Chinese riots has engendered an irrepressible hostility towards Chinamen on the part of a certain class. Thos. Gerrard was convicted in the Police Court yesterday on a charge of assault and battery and in other [illegible] Chinaman [illegible] the most inhuman language. He was charged [illegible] in the vicinity of [illegible] street glorifying over the attack on the China men and carrying the programme by riding down every Chinaman who came [illegible] running his horse at them at full speed. Mr Lonkerback asked the Court to impose the heaviest penalty allowed by the law and the sentence will likely be a severe one.

Judge Hoffman rendered yesterday a very important decision in the case of the Coast Wrecking Company against the materials of the ironclad Camanche. Honor [illegible] a decree to be entered allowing the salvors one third. [illegible]

Detectives Lees and Harmon have at last succeeded in hunting out and arresting the confidence gentleman who has been at work swindling tradesmen by professing to purchase large bills of goods and then borrowing a few dollars and disappearing mysteriously before the goods were shipped or paid. He proves to be an old convict, who gives his name as James Hammond. His operations are said to have been very extensive and he succeeded for a time in deceiving some of our most prominent business men.

[illegible] Feb 16.—A terrible shooting affray [illegible] Mr McGinnis [illegible] Mr [illegible] school [illegible] McGinnis attacked [illegible] telling Mr [illegible] shot him [illegible] the body of Mr McGinnis [illegible] head of Mr [illegible] was still living with but slight hopes of his recovery.

STATE ITEMS

An eagle was lately killed in Benton county which measured seven inches from tip to tip of wings. Eagles [illegible] larger than this.

The Press of [illegible] says the [illegible] their [illegible] is barely enough to hold a mortgage.

The Courier says: Mr Wm S [illegible] land was appointed by the [illegible] of Yamhill County, at its late sitting, guardian of Perry and E [illegible] minor heirs of J [illegible] deceased of this county. A bond of [illegible] required.

[illegible] rain that could be noticed [illegible] snow. [illegible] of the nights wherein no rain fell were frosty. [illegible] nights were cold enough to freeze ice from [illegible] inch thickness. Depth of rain that fell [illegible] inches; depth of snow [illegible] inches.

The following officers of Harrisburg Lodge No. 33 I O G T were installed last Friday: W C T, C H Farrier; W V T, John Wood; W S, Mrs E [illegible]; W T M Koontz; W A S, J P Alford; W T, W Farrier; W F S, O P Tompkins; W C, C Baker; W M, W Brown; W D M, Miss O E Frakes; W I G, Miss Emma Berring; W O G, J T Frakes; W R H S, Mrs Ann E Farrier; W L H S, Miss Francis Watkins.

The Press thinks Jackson county ahead of any other in the State in regard to horse flesh, whether from superiority of stock, the favorable character of the climate, or what other cause we will not venture to decide. Mr James Dawson, who resides on Bear creek, has the finest three-year old stallion we remember to have seen on this coast. He is a Vermont horse, stands about seventeen hands high, is beautifully clean limbed, has immense breadth and depth of chest, ponderous hind quarters and is altogether a model of equine symmetry and strength. His owner has named him in honor of that most gifted of Ireland's sons, "Edmund Burke."

A letter from Yaquina Bay to the Corvallis Gazette gives the annexed intelligence: The actual discovery of coal on the Yaquina Bay is now beyond a doubt. Specimens can be seen at Winant & Co's store, Oysterville. The croppings were found about one half mile below that place on the north side of the Bay by John Black, H C Noute and the writer. Some excavation showed a well defined bed of coal and slate (mixed) lying horizontal and between sandstone formations. From present indications and the expressed experience of coal miners I feel no hesitancy in saying coal exists in large quantities on the Yaquina Bay. To persons conversant with the value of this commodity, it is unnecessary to mention the value of the discovery to this Bay and Benton county. Coal was found last year in the gravel of the Siletz river bed, in quantities to satisfy me that it was but a wash from some larger deposit along the river, but this was on the Reserve and of course of no use or benefit to the public at present. From the evidences it is reasonable to suppose coal beds are scattered over a large tract of the Bay district, and that in a very short time coal mining will become a profitable business. Money has been raised and deposited with Capt Dodge and experienced men will commence on next Monday, with a view to further development. In my next letter I hope to convey the happy intelligence to the people of Benton county that a real simon pure good paying coal bed has been added to her store of wealth.

MORE PROTECTION WANTED.—The New York newspapers are very savage in their discussion of the proposed changes of the tariff—the protectionists being led by the Evening Post, and the free traders by the Tribune. The Nation puts in a word thus:

There is a story afloat that some of the artists are agitating for a tolerably heavy tax on all pictures imported from Europe, by way of protection to their own works. We doubt the truth of the story, but we, nevertheless, are surprised that gentlemen who find their pictures unsaleable have not hit upon this method of "working them" off long ago. From the standpoint of a bad painter, which, without ever having had a brush in our hands, we conscientiously endeavor to take, our only objection to this scheme is that it does not go far enough. The bill ought to contain a provision forcing the Secretary of the Treasury to purchase all pictures of native artists that nobody else will purchase, for the formation of a "grand gallery." Our opinion—still from this standpoint—has always been that all bad painters and bad writers ought to be supported by the country, though we have always been willing to leave the paltry details of the arrangement to Congress. If a man writes or paints as well as he can, and he still cannot get a living, who is to blame but the rascally public? We need hardly say we are in favor, also, on our own account, of the exclusion of all foreign publications. We think, for example, that the Nation and North American Review ought to be protected against the English weeklies and quarterlies, and also against Every Saturday and Littell's Living Age. The Japanese and Chinese are much decried in these days, but they at least know how to foster native art and literature.

KILLED BY AN ÆROLITE.—A Paris correspondent writes: "About a month ago a Scotch policeman mysteriously disappeared, but has since been found drowned in Dunsapple Loch, with no trace of violence on him, beyond a slight discoloration of the forehead. It is not supposed that anybody would be likely to murder him, and there is no probability that he would commit suicide. Mr Munson writes to suggest that as the poor man's disappearance was on the night of the falling stars, he was very probably struck by one of them and knocked into the lake. 'It is but a few years since,' Mr Munson continues, 'that a brother and sister were driving in an open carriage in Tuscany, and the former of the two was suddenly half stunned by a blow on the head by a small aerolite, which was picked up immediately after the accident. The occurrence was notorious at the time, and the injured individual trustworthy and well known. A second instance of aerolite occurred lately in the in the gardens of an intimate friend of my own at Florence, on which occasion some of the inmates had a narrow escape from being struck. The missile was examined by us, and its specific gravity exceeded that of a bullet.'"

Henry Ward Beecher has written a letter to Parson Brownlow, in which he says: "What the whole people, above all things, need just now, is that one Southern State should, of its own will and by the vote of its own people, come up fully on to the platform of equal rights and full citizenship for all men. Then there will be a model to work by—other States will have courage to believe that such things can be done. Suffrage for the whole people I deem a natural right. I should urge it as a matter of justice. Should you secure it, it will raise the conscience of the whole nation many degrees higher than it is. But, in your case, it is also a matter of political safety. If some fear that such a measure would kill them, so I am sure that the want of it would kill them. To die for a principle is to make sure of a resurrection, while political death without and even against a principle is death perpetual and resurrectionless. Should Tennessee remain firm and work out this great truth and duty of universal suffrage (not forfeited by crime) I shall regard it as the light of the night. The day star will have risen and light will grow stronger and darkness weaker every moment thereafter."

AN AEROLITE.—A dispatch from San Juan South to the Alta (Feb 11th) gives the subjoined:

About 5:30 this P M a large meteor like a globe of fire, was seen falling in the southeast and a few moments after a heavy ground shook was felt, accompanied by a tremendous report, as if some terrific explosion had occurred very near us. The same phenomenon was observed, shock felt, and report heard at Gilroy and Watsonville, fifteen miles in the opposite direction. It is difficult to determine the locality or the distance to the spot where the aerolite collided with terra firma, as it seemed to be no nearer to observers here than to the people of Watsonville.

On the 6th inst. Hon. Henderson, of Oregon, introduced a joint resolution in the House, providing for a survey of the boundary line between Oregon and Idaho. The resolution was referred.

Ex Governor Washington Hunt, of New York, died in New York city on the 1st inst.

Snow fell in New Orleans on the 4th of January for the first time in fifteen years.

SUCCESSFUL BURGLARY—STOWELL, CHAMBERLAIN & CO'S SAFE BLOWN OPEN AND ROBBED.—Our town was startled on Friday morning by the discovery of a great burglary in the Banking Office of Messrs Stowell Chamberlain & Co. The safe was a double one made by Lewis Lillie & Son of the largest size, weighing many thousand pounds. The burglars obtained an entrance into the office by prying open one of the windows with a jimmy. In the lower left hand corner of the right hand outer door of the safe which was two inches thick, a hole was drilled through which powder was introduced. It was blown open, separating the outside from the bolts and inside casing, rendering it a complete wreck. The lower hinges of both doors were broken off. They next attacked the inside safe, which was two feet high, extending the width and depth of the inside of the main safe. This safe was one and a half inches thick, made with folding doors. They drilled another hole through the right hand door in nearly the same position they had on the outside safe, blowing open that one. This gave them access to the money and bonds, amounting to twenty five thousand dollars which they carried off. The larger portion of this belonged to special depositors. They also took valuable papers belonging to the firm, leaving, in their flight, a bag of gold and silver, also a hundred dollar bill. This safe was made to order by Mr Lillie of chilled iron and was supposed to be burglar proof, as it was a double safe, one inside the other, with Lillie's combination locks on the outside and inside doors. No trace of the burglars has been discovered. They came well prepared with jimmies, drills, gunpowder, &c. The clerk of the bank did not leave there until twelve o'clock at night. The explosion was heard about four in the morning, showing they were expeditious in their work.

STEAMSHIP RUMORS.—The people of San Francisco as well as those of Portland have recently been blessed with quite a variety of rumors about new steamship arrangement. The following chapter of rumors is from the Evening Bulletin of the 11th and is positively the latest San Francisco news on that subject:

There are quite a number of rumors afloat concerning proposed changes in steamship lines from this port, some of which will probably prove true. As matters of gossip we give the following: The propeller California is being refitted preparatory to running regularly to Santa Cruz and Monterey, where [illegible] The new steamship Oregonian is reported sold or in process of sale to the California Steam Navigation Company, who are to put her on the route to Portland, Oregon. The new propeller Idaho, just arrived, having larger freight capacity and greater speed, is to be fitted up and will take the place of the propeller Montana and run to Portland. The Montana after being overhauled is to be placed on the Mexican line to run to Mazatlan and Guaymas in opposition to the California, Oregon and Mexican Company's steamers. It is also reported that the Idaho and Montana, if not bought or subsidized by the other lines running to Portland and Mazatlan, will be competitors for mail contracts in case the bill now before Congress passes that body authorizing a subsidy of $100,000 per annum for a line of steamers to run monthly between San Francisco and Honolulu. We give these rumors for what they are worth. Meanwhile the three different lines of steamers running to Portland take passengers in the cabin at from $10 to $15, and steerage at $5. Freight is also taken at from $3 to $5 per ton, according to quantity, and while the steamship owners are losing money the public generally are being benefitted by cheap travelling and low freights.

THE AJAX.—The steamship Ajax, which arrived from San Francisco Saturday night, is a propeller of 1,454 tons burthen, a beautiful model and every way a very fine ship so far as we can judge. She was built in New York by C. & R. Poillon and was sent around to San Francisco about a year ago, since which time she has made only two voyages [illegible] Honolulu. She has recently received a thorough refitting at Mare Island and is now as bright as a pin throughout. She has large and airy cabin and upper deck saloons with family and single state rooms equal to 100 berths, but can accommodate a much larger number of first class passengers. The passenger accommodations are quite as good as those of any ship ever sailing to this port. Everything about the ship seems to have been constructed with a special view to securing strength, convenience and comfort. The owners have manifested their usual business sagacity in putting this ship under the command of Capt. Wm. Metzger, late of the Pacific. We are glad to see a growing disposition among steamship owners to put on the Portland trade new and staunch vessels of this character. The Ajax may be relied upon as one of the safest vessels—that is always a first consideration with landsmen—ever on this route. Capt. Metzger informs us that she made on the trip up, very near as good speed during the foul weather and heavy sea of the first day or two out as afterwards when the sea was comparatively smooth. That, we believe, is peculiar to all this class of vessels. Fair or foul weather they go along about their business and if they do not invariably make as quick time as the side-wheels they make good average time and can go out or come in to port when a side-wheel steamer would find it very hazardous.

VANCOUVER ITEMS.—The Register of the 16th contains the following: A special school meeting was held last Saturday, which was fully attended, and the proposed tax to finish the upper story of the school house and make other improvements was voted down. The Orphans' Fair was well attended and well patronized by our citizens. Everything went off pleasantly as far as we know, and a handsome sum was realized over and above all expenses, amounting, at a rough guess, to over one thousand dollars. ...A project is now being considered of introducing water in this city by conducting the water through pipes from a creek about four or five miles above this place. The plan is feasible and would prove a remunerative investment to any one who undertakes it. The want of water is much felt by people residing in the upper portion of the town. ...The Fire Company will give a ball on Washington's birthday, the 22d inst. at the Metropolis Hall in this place. A committee of arrangements has been appointed, and present indications promise that it will be a great success. The boys will appear in full uniform. The ladies have the supervision of the supper and refreshments, and are making the necessary preparations with their usual good will. An invitation has been or will be extended to the members of the Portland Fire Department.

OREGON CITY ITEMS.—We clip the following items from the Enterprise:

A large band of fat cattle for Idaho, passed through this city from Linn and Lane counties, on Thursday. ...Mr Isaac Farr has placed before us a specimen potato from his patch, which weighs four pounds. It is of the Blue Chenango variety. ...The toll bridges in Clackamas county have all been made free. The A. J. Cason bridge was purchased for the sum of $3,000 coin with interest. The Harrison Wright bridge at a cost of $2,600 coin. There is considerable money due the school fund in this county, on notes with interest and principal unpaid. This the Treasurer has been instructed to proceed and collect. ...The County Court, at its last session ordered that the currency in the treasury be disposed of as it accumulated from time to time at current rates, but never at a less figure than 70 cents on the dollar.

CIRCUIT COURT—SHATTUCK, JUDGE.—On Saturday, the following proceedings were had:

State of Oregon vs William Connor, indicted for larceny; arraigned and pleaded guilty.

State of Oregon vs. Owen Prior, indicted for adultery, arraigned and allowed till Monday to plead.

John McCarty vs G. B. Gray, confession of judgment by defendant of $439, currency, and $95 25 coin.

J. N. Dolph vs. J. B. and Susannah Nickum, action to recover possession of lots 5, 6, 7 and 8 in block 250, in the City of Portland, judgment for possession in favor of plaintiff.

Wm. Stevens vs John Foster submitted to jury with leave to seal the verdict and return it to Court Monday morning.

THE TANNER TROUPE.—This troupe performed Saturday evening, at the Willamette Theater to a very good audience. They will give another entertainment to-night at the same place. Mr Tanner is making an effort which we are pleased to note to reform the minstrel show business and make it presentable to respectable audiences. Of late years so much of vulgarity has been introduced into this sort of shows that ladies and the better classes of men have been driven away. The effort to redeem minstrel amusements from this vice, will meet with hearty approbation from most people, and Mr Tanner will eventually find it promotive of his pecuniary interests.

SMUGGLING.—Henry Robinson, colored, steward of the Fidelater, was arrested on Saturday on a charge of smuggling opium. He had an examination before Mr. R. Wilcox, U. S. Commissioner, and was held in the sum of $300 to answer, in default of which, he was sent to jail. It appeared upon the examination that he had brought about his person from Victoria six small cans of opium and disposed of them to a Chinaman, and that he had heretofore for some time carried on a contraband trade of the same sort. Deputy Marshal Ward made the discovery of Robinson's unlawful transactions and seized the goods. The opium was worth probably about $42.

COMPLIMENTARY.—We notice in the Victoria papers a card from the passengers of the Fidelater on her late trip to Victoria, highly complimentary to Capt Erskine for his skill and presence of mind during the dangerous passage of the Columbia bar, and for his constant efforts to make his passengers comfortable throughout the voyage, which was a long and tedious one. Our friends Geo. A. Ladd and W. G. Ballard were among the passengers and signers of the card. It was a deserved tribute to an accomplished seaman and officer.

ARRESTED FOR STABBING.—A soldier named Thomas was arrested yesterday morning by officer Brannan and lodged in jail, on the charge of stabbing Samuel Wilson. The parties were on a bender Saturday night. About one or two o'clock according to Wilson's story, Thomas asked Wilson for his pocket knife and upon receiving it, he opened it and without warning stabbed Wilson in the left breast. The wound inflicted is probably not a very serious one though it is two or three inches deep. Wilson lay on the street for an hour or two after being cut.

RECORDER'S COURT.—On Saturday John Corbett was up on a charge of drunken and disorderly conduct. It appeared the defendant had invaded a private dwelling on First street probably under the impression that he was licensed to go where he pleased. The Recorder couldn't see it by the light of that lamp and fined the defendant $30 and costs. Ah Jim was charged with throwing broken glass in the street. The charge was not proved and Jim was discharged.

MR. UPTON'S LECTURE.—The lecture of Mr W W Upton Saturday evening on the subject of "The Perpetuity of individual Influence" was listened to by a very fair audience, with marked attention. The lecturer passed entirely out of the limits of his profession (the law,) but seemed quite at home in the field of mathematical and philosophical enquiry. The lecture was finely written and in some passages exhibited rare beauty of expression and even classical elegance.

PROSPECTIVE OPPOSITION.—We are informed that certain parties at Astoria have been talking of chartering the Grant to run between Portland and Astoria to carry passengers from one port to the other free, and freights at reduced prices and passengers to be charged the usual rates. On Saturday we heard it reported that the arrangement had been perfected, but we know nothing of the facts from any of the parties concerned.

THE MONTANA.—Contrary to the report that the Montana would not immediately return to this port she is now on the way here having sailed from San Francisco last Saturday, the 9th. The San Francisco papers have a statement that the Idaho will soon take her place and that she will be employed on the Southern coast.

THE CUTTER LINCOLN.—The Revenue Cutter Lincoln, Capt J W White Commander arrived here last evening from Puget Sound. She left Victoria on Thursday the 14th. She is anchored in the river, off the O S N Co.'s wharf.

ARRIVAL OF TROOPS.—The Ajax brought up 148 soldiers of the 14th U S Infantry regiment for service in this Department. They were taken to Fort Vancouver yesterday by the steamer Fannie Troup.

WILLAMETTE PRODUCTS.—Arrived per Alert, Saturday Feb 16th: 49 boxes apples, 534 sks oats, 18 dressed hogs, 1 coop chickens, 13 bedsteads, 6 boxes eggs, [illegible] butter and 90 sks middlings.

OUT OF ORDER.—The Fort Vancouver engine being too much out of order for use it has been brought over to this city for repairs, and is now at the house of Willamette Engine Co. No. 1.

THE "FALKINBURG."—This barkentine was reported off the mouth of the Columbia on Saturday morning. She is homeward bound from Honolulu.

SAILED.—The Fidelater sailed at an early hour yesterday morning for Victoria.

WASHINGTON GUARDS BALL.—The fourth annual ball of the Washington Guards will be held at Oro Fino Hall on Friday evening, the 22d. We acknowledge the receipt of complimentary tickets. The Guards have become somewhat famous for the handsome manner in which they conduct their parties and as the company is a very deserving one, the dancing public will respond liberally to their general invitation very handsomely by way of a general attendance.

MILITARY.—Gen. Elliott has been assigned to the command of the post of Ft. Vancouver. The Register says of him: He is an old officer, a graduate of West Point and served with much distinction principally under Gen Thomas during the late rebellion.

THE "CONTINENTAL."—The telegraph reports that this steamer will leave San Francisco for Portland on Thursday, the 21st, in place of the Oriflamme.

GOING EAST.—Barman Bros. will commence moving their large stock of goods to Vaughn's brick next Monday. But their numerous customers are already rapidly moving their goods for them, apparently to save them the trouble.

The undersigned who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here and in the markets of the interior a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.

Grandmother

There is an old kitchen somewhere in the past, and an old fashioned fire place therein with its smooth old jams of stone smooth with many knives that have been sharpened there, smooth with many little fingers that have clung there There are andirons with rings in the top, wherein many temples of flame have been builded with spires and turrets of crimson There is a broad worn hearth—broad enough for three generations to cluster on worn by feet that have been torn and bleeding by the way, or been made "beautiful" and walked upon the floors of tessellated gold. There are tongs in the corner, wherewith we grasp a coal, and "blowing for a little life," lighted our first candle, there is a shovel wherewith was drawn forth the glowing embers in which we saw our first fancies and dreamed our first dreams, the shovel with which we stirred the logs until the sparks rushed up the chimney as if a forge were in blast below, and wished we had so many lambs, or so many marbles, or so many somethings that we coveted, and so it was that we wished our first wishes

There is a chair—a low, rush-bottomed chair, there is a wheel in the corner, a big wheel in the garret, a loom in the chamber There are chestfuls of linen and yarn, and quilts of rare patterns and samplers in frames.

And everywhere and always the dear old wrinkled face of her whose firm, elastic step mocks the feeble saunter of her children's children—the old fashioned grandmother of twenty years ago She, the very Providence of the old homestead, she who loved us all, and said she wished there were more of us to love, and took all the school in the hollow for grandchildren besides. A great expansive heart was hers, beneath that woolen gown, or that more stately bombazine, or that sole heirloom of silken texture.

We can see her to day, those mild blue eyes, with more of beauty in them than time could touch, or death can do no more than hide—those eyes that held both smiles and tears within their faintest call of every one of us, and soft reproof that seemed not passion but regret. A white tress—has escaped from beneath her snowy cap, she lengthened the tether of a vine that was straying over a window, as she came in, and plucked a four leaved clover for Ellen. She sits down by the wheel—a tress is running through her fingers from the distaff's dishevelled head, when a small voice cries "Grandma," from the old red cradle and "Grandma," Tommy shouts from the top of of the stairs. Gently she lets go the thread, for her patience is almost as beautiful as her charity, and she touches the little red bark a moment, till the young voyager is in a dream again, and then directs Tommy's unavailing attempts to harness the cat.

The tick of the clock runs faint and low, and she opens the mysterious door and proceeds to wind it up We are all on tip toe, and we beg in a breath to be lifted up one by one, and look in the hundredth time upon the tin cases of the weights, and the poor lonely pendulum, which goes to and fro by its little dim windows, and our petitions were granted, and we are all lifted up, and we all touch with the finger the wonderful weights, and the music of the wheel is resumed

Was Mary to be married, or Jane to be wrapped in a shroud So meekly did she fold the white hands of the one upon her still bosom, that there seemed to be a prayer in them there, and so sweetly did she wreathe the white rose in the hair of the other, that one would not have wondered had more roses budded for company How she stood between us and apprehended harm, how the rudest of us softened beneath the gentle, pressure of her faded and tremulous hand! From her capacious pocket that hand was ever withdrawn closed, only to be opened in our own with the nuts she had gathered, with the cherries she had plucked, the little egg she had found, the "turn over" she had baked, the trinket she has purchased for us as the product of her spinning, the blessings she had stored for us—the offspring of her heart.

What treasures of story fell from those old lips—of good fairies and evil, of the old times when she was a girl, but we wondered if ever—but then she could't be handsomer or dearer—she was ever little. And then, when we begged her to sing—"Sing us one of the old songs you used to sing for mother, grandma"

"Children, I can't sing," she always said, and mother used to always lay her knitting softly down, and the kitten stopped playing with the yarn on the floor, and the clock ticked lower in the corner, and the fire died down to a glow, like an old heart that is neither chilled nor dead, and grandmother sang To be sure, it would not do for the parlor and concert room, now a days but then it was the old kitchen and the old fashioned grandmother, and the old ballad, in the dear old times, and we can hardly see to write for the memory of them, though it is a hand s breadth to the sunset

Well, she sang. Her voice was feeble and wavering, like a fountain just ready to fail—but then how sweet toned it was, and it became deeper and stronger, but it could not grow sweeter What "joy of grief" it was to sit there around the fire, all of us excepting Jane, and her we thought we saw when the door was opened a moment by the wind, but then we were not afraid for was not it her old smile she wore? To sit there around the fire, and weep over the woes of the babes in the woods, who laid down side by side in the great solemn shadows, and how strangely glad we felt when the robin redbreast covered them with leaves, and last of all when the angel took them out of night into day everlasting

We may think what we will of it now, but the song and the story heard around the kitchen fire have colored the thoughts and the lives of most of us, have given the germs of whatever poetry blesses our hearts, whatever of memory blooms in our yesterdays. Attribute whatever we may to the school and the schoolmaster, the rays which make that little day we call life, radiate from the God swept circle of the hearth stone

Then she sings an old lullaby she sung to mother—her mother sang it to her, but she does not sing it through, and falters ere it is done She rests her head upon her hands, and it is silent in the old kitchen Something glitters down between her fingers in the firelight, it looked like rain in the soft sunshine The old grandmother is thinking when she first heard the song, and of the voice that sang it when a light haired and light-hearted girl, she hung round that mother's chair, nor saw the shadows of the years of come. Oh! the days that are no more! What words, unsay, what deeds undo to set back just this once the ancient clock of time!

So our little hands were forever clinging to her garments and staying her as if from dying, for long ago she had done living for herself and lived alone in us But the old kitchen wants a presence to day, and the rush bottomed chair is tenantless

How she used to welcome us when we were grown, and came back once more to the homestead!

We thought we were men and women, but we were children there the old fashioned grandmother was blind in her eyes but she saw with her heart as she always did We threw our long shadows through the open door and she felt them as they fell over her form and she looked dimly up, and she said

"Edward I know and Lucy s voice I can hear but whose is that other? It isn t be Jane s —for she had almost forgotten the folded hands "Oh, no! not Jane s for she—let me see—she is waiting for me isn t she " and the old grandmother wandered and wept

"It is another daughter, grandmother, that Howard has brought for your blessing " says some one

"Has she blue eyes my son? Put her hand in mine, for she is my late born the child of my old age Shall I sing you a song children? and she is idly fumbling for a toy, a gift for the children that have come again

One of us, men as we thought we were, is weeping, she hears the half suppressed sobs and she says as she extends her feeble hand, "Here my poor child rest upon your grandmother s shoulder she will protect you from all harm "

"Come children, sit around the fire again Shall I sing you a song or tell you a story? Stir the fire for it is cold the nights are growing colder"

[illegible] in the corner stood nine the bed [illegible] days The song of life was in [illegible] sung, the story told It was bed time at last "Good night to thee, grandmother" The old fashioned grandmother was no more and we miss her forever But we will set up a tablet in the midst of the heart and write on it only this "Sacred to the memory of the Old fashioned Grandmother God bless her forever"

SPEECH OF SENATOR SIMON CAMERON —Simon Cameron made a speech on the evening of his election to the United States Senate in which he said

I thank God that in spite of the slander that my enemies have heaped upon me for 30 years my fellow citizens who have seen my life from day to day have always stood by me [illegible] and helped me to repel them This struggle of my political life has ended in victory I desire this as an answer to kind ate my honesty to my children and friends I now propose to put the slanders behind me and forget alike the liar who concocted them and the fact that good men in some cases by repetition of them, were induced to believe and repeat them

Mr Cameron continued Six years ago I thought slavery was a strength to the rebellion and ought to be destroyed without delay I would have to arm all blacks who would volunteer Of course I thought clothing a black in the American uniform clothed him with the rights of an American citizen, and I am always sorry to see a black soldier and reflect that even Pennsylvania denies him the ballot the only weapon whereby he can protect himself I hope to live to see the word white stricken from our own Constitution and the spirit of caste upon color utterly destroyed The South however is more controlled by social influence than by political principles If you are wise and firm you may possibly educate the rising generation in loyalty, but there is no method in statesmanship which will make the gentlemen of the South loyal to the Union and the flag the poison of thirty years cannot be eradicated by the subserviency of the Presidency or by statutes of Congress Let us look the South in the face, the Southern Territory is disloyal the loyal men of to day must guard the children against another treasonable rebellion The Constitutional amendment and impartial suffrage will help to do this but universal amnesty will help to undo it Of Andrew Johnson, I said long ago he was a traitor to his party, and an enemy to his country and a bad man He has done many bad things but nothing worse than offering the fires of the country to those unprincipled men who deserted and betrayed the great Republican organization for his patronage He joined the Democratic party long ago He has a right to give them offices, but he has no right to dispose of them at auction to weak kneed Republicans The pauper labor of Europe is again competing with our labor and our manufactories languish for want of protection Pennsylvania needs no assurance of my devotion to her interests in this regard which are the interests of the whole country I will labor to protect our manufactures from ruin, and their workmen from being thrown out of employment or their wages reduced to starvation point for I hold the true welfare of our nation depends on the welfare of the laboring class

GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER!

IN EVERY PROGRESSIVE SCIENCE PERIODS ARrive when a new direction is imparted to its course These epochs proceed from discovery of new facts shedding a light which changes the whole aspect of the science The present is an epoch of this kind and this Great Remedy now offered to the public in connection with the theory on which it is based, is destined to effect an entire revolution in the treatment of the diseases of

SCROFULA AND KING'S EVIL!

by eradicating the disease entirely from the blood. The FOUNTAIN OF LIFE is composed entirely of vegetable extracts It contains no Mercury or other mineral substance

The Proprietor and Discoverer of this Sovereign Remedy CHALLENGES THE WORLD to furnish anything, from the days of Æsculapius down to the present time, in the arcana of Medical Science, which can vie with or excel the intrinsic properties of this Great Blood Purifier Its value has been tested with the happiest effect in the most obstinate cases of Scrofula, that baffled the skill of the most eminent physicians in the world. No matter what form the dreadful disease of SCROFULA and KING S EVIL may have assumed, it can in no way be more safely and certainly arrested in its progress than by HENLEY'S GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER Thousands have been swept into their graves who had they made a timely use of the FOUNTAIN OF LIFE might now be enjoying the blessings of life and health It requires an article of real merit and intrinsic value to sustain itself. During the stern ordeal of public experiment the FOUNTAIN OF LIFE has stood the test trial and not been found wanting

Dr HENLEY guarantees to CURE any case of SCROFULA or KING S EVIL in the world, and eradicate the disease entirely from the system, or no charge made —provided they will secure him his pay when they are cured

FOR REFERENCE

I would refer you to L L Peck, of Portland, Oregon, and numbers of others, as to what a miraculous effect it had in a short time in cases that had baffled the skill of physicians for years.

to call at his office and be at once restored Surgical operations SKILFULLY performed on the EYES for film cataract strabismus or cross eyes

Below are some of the many testimonials

This is to certify that I, John L J [illegible] was blind for over nine years, and I tried all means of a cure, and and many doctors, and all of no effect and I spent all the means I had Finally, I had to become a county charge, and when I was taken to Dr G W Brown, and stated my case to him and misfortune, he at once commenced to treat my eyes, and now I am well, and commend all those that are suffering with diseases of the eyes to call on Dr G W Brown The reason why I do this is to let suffering humanity know where they can be cured

SATURDAY, Feb 10 1866

This is to certify that my daughter was almost blind for over seven years and was doctored by other physicians without obtaining any relief when finally I took her to Dr G W Brown who examined her case and at once began to give her treatment, and her sight has been entirely restored I do this to let those who are suffering with diseases of the eyes know where they can obtain a cure It has been three years since her eyes were cured and they are yet sound

THOMAS LIVINGSTON,
Deer Creek Precinct Douglas county Oregon.

SALEM, July 31 1866

This is to certify that I was blind for over four months and almost blind for one year and a half, I tried several eye doctors but received no benefit I had almost given my case up as hopeless when fortunately I heard of Dr G W Brown now of Salem I was induced to try him, he performed a surgical operation on my eyes and gave me treatment I soon began to recover and in a short time I was perfectly cured I do this in justice to one who rescued me from a fate worse than death and also for the benefit of those who are laboring under similar afflictions that they may know where they can get relief It is now about eight months since my eyes were cured and they still remain good I can see to read the finest print without difficulty, and my eyes can bear the strongest light without pain

L. JAY S. TURNEY,

HAVING LEASED THE ABOVE NAMED HOTEL, is prepared to accommodate the traveling public, and ONE HUNDRED REGULAR BOARDERS, in as good style as any House on the Coast He has determined to make the "Bennett" as good as the best and better than any public house in Salem He will soon complete some important improvements, which will add greatly to its appearance and comfort, and intends to merit and hopes to receive his share of patronage

He has secured the services of "Charley" (known to be the best cook in Salem, and one of the best in the whole country) and other competent persons to manage the culinary department, and is resolved to set as good a table as can be found anywhere—not in clap-trap, pomp and show, flummery and fine furniture, but in an abundant supply of the very best the market affords

His Bar room will be kept warmed and lighted, and well supplied with newspapers periodicals and other suitable reading matter, and kept in a manner which will make it an agreeable resort

In short he intends making an effort to please ALL who stop at the BENNETT HOUSE And he most respectfully requests his friends everywhere to give the old and well known stand at least one more trial before concluding they can do as well elsewhere, and promises if they are not well treated and properly cared for and at reasonable figures it will not be the fault of the public's most obedient and most humble servant,
